

SUPPORT THE EVERYBODY'S ENVIRONMENT EMERGING LEADERS SUMMIT

Everybody's Environment aims to develop inclusive and equitable organization cultures, develop a Racial Equity Leadership Pipeline, foster a learning culture and reciprocal exchange with communities of color and provide training on racial equity practices. Through the E3 Summit, Everybody's Environment partners hope to expand their vision of disrupting the common image of environmental stewards and create an inclusive framework for those looking to serve our public lands.

Why Sponsor? Summits support the goal of bridging opportunity gaps in service with communities to achieve goals such as: expanding employment and stewardship opportunities for the youth, creating experience-based opportunities, fostering connections with inclusive communities to employment opportunities in the region and providing space and dialogue for youth voice around a shared theory of change regarding issues of equity and inclusion in our public lands.

Who's Involved? Everybody's Environment is a collaboration of environmental NGOs, government agencies and community groups in Western North Carolina, with goals to foster equity and inclusion among environmental stewards, including:

- Sierra Club
- Dogwood Alliance
- WNC Nature Center
- Southern Appalachian Highlands Conservancy
- Carolina Mountain Land Conservancy
- Appalachian Trail Conservancy
- Asheville GreenWorks
- MountainTrue
- Conservation Trust for North Carolina
- National Park Service
- U.S. Forest Service
- AmeriCorps Project Conserve
- Warren Wilson College
- Blue Ridge Parkway Foundation
- Center for Diversity Education at UNCA
- Green Opportunities
- Hood Huggers International